Hi Sarah

Good to meet you and Brodie yesterday. Thanks for presenting at the board meeting. We look forward to continuing to work with you on this significant project.

I've made some suggestions attached in track changes to more accurately align with the actual resolution we passed (see below)

I've also included a possible quote from me – happy for this to be edited further (as raised yesterday we would like to be included in this release)

I've cc'd in 9 (2) (a) the Board's comms adviser who can assist.

Regards

Pippa

Ngā tūtohunga / Recommendation/s

That the Waitematā Local Board:

- a) Supports locating the National Erebus Memorial at Dover-Myer Robinson Park subject to:
 - i) all necessary building and resource consent requirements being met
 - ii) a rigorous design process which includes a review of the short listed designs by the Auckland Urban Design Panel and, as a separate process, the Waitematā Local Board
 - iii) the local board granting landowner approval for the installation of the winning design subject to Board approval of this design
 - iv) Ministry for Culture and Heritage providing funding to cover all costs relating to the installation and future maintenance of the structure and associated landscape features.
- b) delegate to the Waitematā Local Board chair and parks portfolio lead sign off of the memorial design parameters

- c) receive the letter of support from the Ngāti Whātua Ōrākei trust and notes that the Ministry for Culture and Heritage will lead mana whenua consultation on the location.

Hi Pippa - thank you so much for today; naturally we are feeling thrilled. Please pass on our thanks to the other Board members.

Are you ok with the text of the attached media release?

Many thanks, looking forward very much to our ongoing work with the Board.

Sarah

Thanks for your voice message Sarah

I've made the changes. Can you send on?

I'm at home tomorrow, but I can send out the release once I get the OK from you.

Kind regards

Auckland site approved for National Erebus Memorial

The Waitematā Local Board has ~~approved in principle the given support to the~~ construction of the National Erebus Memorial at Auckland's Dove-Myer Robinson Park / Taurarua Pā, commonly known as the Parnell Rose Gardens.

The proposed site is on a lawn area overlooking Judges Bay.

Manatū Taonga Ministry for Culture and Heritage is responsible for creating the National Erebus Memorial, which will be completed in early 2020. The Ministry submitted a proposal to the Local Board which received ~~approval in principle support~~ yesterday, following endorsement from local iwi Ngāti Whātua Ōrākei.

"We are pleased to gain approval for a site which meets criteria established from consultation with the families of the Erebus victims and which meets the requirements of a national memorial," says Manatū Taonga Ministry for Culture and Heritage Acting Chief Executive Renee Graham.

"We look forward to working with the Local Board as we take the project forward.

"A design process is currently underway, with the Expressions of Interest submission period closing this week on 25 November.

"The next steps will be for the Expressions of Interest submissions to be assessed and shortlisted."

"The Waitematā Local Board is really honoured to host such a significant historically important memorial in one of our outstanding local parks" says Pippa Coom, Waitematā Local Board Chair

"We are confident that a rigorous design process led by the Ministry, including a review by the Auckland Urban Design Panel, will ensure that the final design speaks to the heritage and cultural values of the site"

Local Board support is subject to sign off of the memorial design parameters and landowner will be asked to confirm its approval once a preferred design has been selected. The Ministry for Culture and Heritage is providing funding to cover all costs relating to the installation and future maintenance of the structure and associated landscape features.
