

New Zealand Terrorism Update: December 2017 – February 2018

Report Number: DMS6-15-490

Report Date: 2 March 2018

Terrorism Threat Level
LOW	The Combined Threat Assessment Group (CTAG) assesses a terrorist attack in New Zealand is possible, but is not expected.

Summary

Domestic terrorism

- A young male jailed for a violent, ideologically motivated incident in mid-2017 was released from prison into intensive community supervision. There were no other notable incidents or developments related to domestic terrorism during the reporting period.

International terrorism

- One New Zealand citizen was killed in a terrorist attack in Afghanistan in January 2018. New Zealand was otherwise not directly affected by or involved in international terrorist incidents during the reporting period, judging from information available to NZSIS.

Graphic update attached.