Consultation Paper on the Student Levy 2017

What is the Student Levy?

The Student Levy or Student Services Fee is the fee paid by an enrolled student for student support services provided by the University.

The fee is $6.38 per point (on average that is $765 per year for a typical undergraduate taking eight papers in a year). Both international and domestic students pay the same amount. Postgraduates are charged the same fee per point as undergraduate students.

How is the fee collected?

The fee is collected at the same time that tuition fees are billed.

How much is collected?

Each year, the University collects approximately $20m in student levies.

How can the funds be spent?

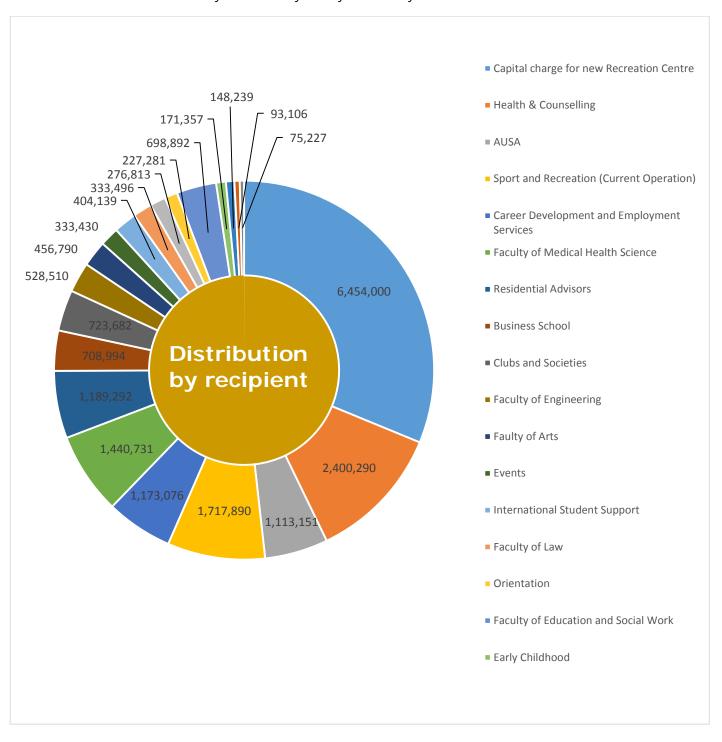

The Education Amendment Act (2011) gives the Tertiary Education Minister the power to issue directions to universities on the categories of services that universities can use the compulsory student levy to fund. Those categories are currently:

- Advocacy and legal advice
- Careers information, advice and guidance
- Counselling and pastoral care
- Employment information
- Financial support and advice
- Health services
- Media
- Childcare services
- Clubs and societies
- Sports, recreation and cultural activities

For a fuller description of these categories see Appendix 1.

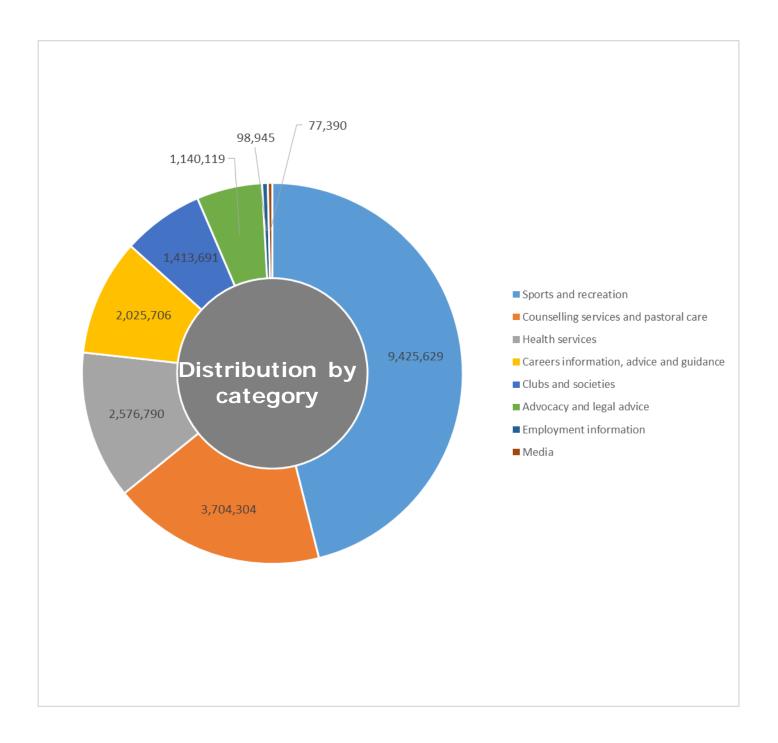

Distribution by recipient

Below is the 2016 breakdown of levy allocation by faculty or centrally-delivered service.

Distribution by category

Below is the 2016 breakdown of levy allocation by the current categories listed by the Tertiary Education Minister.

What does the University spend it on and why?

Funding is disbursed to both faculties and centrallydelivered services. Following is a breakdown of how the 2016 funds were allocated.

Auckland University Students' Association (AUSA): $1.11m

What we spend it on:

Funding is passed to AUSA under the 2012 Deed of Settlement. This agreement sets out expectations of the role that AUSA should play in serving students. For the most part, AUSA is expected to focus on advocacy and representation (e.g. operate a class representative system, ensure concerns raised are addressed at class, departmental, faculty or University levels as appropriate and where appropriate advocate for individual students) and welfare (e.g. supporting students to access financial support available to them or provide grants directly to support or alleviate financial difficulties). However, AUSA is free to provide other services to students where it considers fit.

Why we think it's important:

It is essential to have a strong student voice. AUSA plays an important role in representation and advocacy for both individuals and student groups. Without this funding, avenues for student consultation and feedback would be severely diminished and the process for hearing the student voice to enable continual improvements would be limited.

Career Development and Employability Services (CDES): $1.17m What we spend it on:

CDES assists students with all aspects of career development. Students have access to a range of online resources and tools. These include:

- A career service management system that allows students to self-manage their career activities and access a job board.
- Workshops, small group and individual appointments with a career development consultant.
- A comprehensive website.

Expos, recruitment, career education and other related events to assist students in meeting and engaging with employers and alumni, providing them with an understanding of the opportunities available and the requirements of the world of work.

Why we think it is important:

Employability is one of the key foci of the Tertiary Education Strategy 2014-2019. Priority 1 of the strategy is 'Delivering skills for industry'. Therefore, career development for students ensures they are employable and 'work ready', allowing the University to meet TEC requirements but more importantly, meets students' expectations that the University will support them in their career development.

Chapel and Prayer Spaces: $148,239 What we spend it on:

A Christian chapel and Muslim prayer space on the City Campus, and prayer spaces at Epsom and Tāmaki are available for students of these faiths to use.

Why we think it's important:

We recognise that some students have specific needs in relation to practicing their faith and by providing a physical space on campus these students are able to effectively combine their studies with their spiritual needs.

Clubs and Societies: $723,682 What we spend it on:

- $343,998 Club and Association grants
- $379,684 Club support

Approximately 260 clubs on campus are supported through administrative assistance, equipment, resources, grants, events, expos, development workshops, training and meeting spaces.

Why we think it's important:

Having a range of strong student clubs is important in contributing to student engagement levels across the University. Well-run clubs with strong and active memberships means that a diverse range of events and activities are in place for students to engage in. Clubs also offer important leadership and development opportunities to those students who take on executive positions and are responsible for the governance, finances and operations of a small organisation - skills that employers look for.

Early Childhood Education: $171,357 What we spend it on:

There are six university-managed early childhood centres at Epsom, Grafton and City campuses. The funding provided subsidises the costs of access to childcare services for students.

Why we think it's important:

Early Childhood Centres allow students with preschool aged children to have access to cost-effective, high quality childcare which is conveniently located for them and also is suited to the student timetable. If this service was not available, students with preschool aged children would have to find childcare in possibly less convenient locations.

Events: $333,430 What we spend it on:

The University offers a broad range of recreational and cultural activities for students, which are either free of charge or heavily subsidised. The events are designed to appeal to a range of interests and span cultural, music, performance, sport and skill development. In 2016, approximately 10,000 students attended one of these events. In 2017 the University spent additional funds on events through AUSA, including Party in the Park and other oncampus events.

Why we think it's important:

Both academic and social engagement are key to academic success. In institutions as large as this one, with a high proportion of students commuting rather than living on campus, social engagement becomes especially important. A range of small, medium and large events on campus that cater to the diverse student body assists in helping students make connections with others, build networks, create a sense of belonging and contributes to good student outcomes.

Appendix E - Student Levey Document

Health and Counselling: $2.4m

What we spend it on:

A team of doctors, nurses and counsellors provides a comprehensive range of primary health care services at City, Epsom and Grafton campuses. This funding allows appointments to be either free or subsidised for students.

Why we think it's important:

The Health and Counselling Service plays an important role in helping students to overcome the personal barriers to academic success and retention that can arise from physical or mental health issues. Resources and outreach support provided by Health and Counselling enables staff and students across the University to deal with students in distress at an early stage.

International Student Support: $404,139 What we spend it on:

Funds are put towards staffing a team of International Student Advisers, Visa and Information Officers and an Insurance Administrator.

Why we think it's important:

The International Student Support team is responsible for managing and implementing a comprehensive range of support services to enhance the education and social experience of international students. International students have unique needs and requirements while studying away from their home country. The service is free and confidential.

Orientation Programme: $227,281 What we spend it on:

Pōwhiri costs such as catering, venue, infrastructure; organising, producing and mailing an Orientation programme to all new students and the development of Online Orientation modules.

Why we think it's important:

Transition to University is a critical time for students. It is essential the University provides a welcoming and inclusive experience that helps students become familiar with their new surroundings. Getting students off to a great start at the University of Auckland is essential to student success.

Residential Advisors: $1.18m What we spend it on:

A team of 69 students is employed as Residential Advisors (RAs) in all University accommodation. RAs are current students who work part-time and live in the University residences.

Why we think it's important:

Halls of Residence provide a high-quality and safe environment for students to live in close proximity to the University. In addition, students have access to support services (ranging from academic support to recreational activities and peer support) which is organised by managers of the residences and the livein RAs.

Sport and Recreation: $8.17m What we spend it on:

- $6.45m Capital charge
- $623,979 Rec Centre student membership subsidy, sporting programmes, tournaments and competitions
- $652,537 Staffing
- $441,375 Facilities maintenance and operational support costs

The capital charge has been collected every year since 2012 to build up reserves for the building of a new recreation facility on the City Campus.

Appendix E - Student Levey Document

Why we think it's important:

Physical activity is widely recognised as an important contributor to student wellbeing, engagement, retention, and academic success. In addition to the obvious physical health benefits, several international studies have identified the positive impact physical activity has on cognitive abilities and on preventing mental illness, both of which are especially important for the university student demographic. Studies within university environments have shown physically active students achieve higher than average GPAs and better career outcomes.

UniGuide Programme: $93,106 What we spend it on:

A team of approximately 300 UniGuides volunteer to support students new to the University. Funds are used for uniforms, training, food, materials, staff support and reward and recognition.

Why we think it's important:

UniGuides are senior students who provide a peer-support service to help new students navigate the University and form social groups. They raise awareness of the support services available and encourage new students to ask for help if they need it. Data from the programme shows that those students who sign up for a UniGuide tend to do better academically than those who do not access the programme.

Faculty-delivered services

Faculties deliver a range of services to support student success and engagement. The following is the breakdown of Faculty expenditure in 2016.

Faculty	Expenditure	Summary
Arts	$456,790	First Year Experience (FYE) Programme and support initiatives to meet the faculty's equity objectives. Arts internship coordinator costs, online and publications activities including Online Orientation and social media.
Business	$708,994	Career development programmes and activities and clubs and societies support.
Creative Arts and Industries	$75,227	Careers events, information, advice and guidance. Pastoral care at its broadest sense, including all equity and target groups of interest.
Education and Social Work	$698,892	Student support including Orientation and induction days, graduation events, financial advice and support. Sports equipment, gym costs, safety equipment.
Engineering	$528,510	Clubs and societies, student engagement support, careers and employment services and media.
Law	$333,496	Faculty support for equity initiatives and student engagement, pastoral care and well-being.
Medical and Health Sciences	$1.44m	Student support including career and employment support, counselling and pastoral care, financial support, advocacy and vaccinations.
Science	$276,813	Staffing and student support costs including sports, recreation, cultural events, Orientation, clubs and societies. Careers fairs, information and advice.

The procurement of services

Procurement is based on the five principles as outlined in the Government Rules of Sourcing which are:

- 1. Plan and manage for great results
- 2. Be fair to all suppliers
- 3. Get the right supplier
- 4. Get the best deal for everyone
- 5. Play by the rules

When making procurement decisions at the University, a range of factors are taken into account including, but not limited to, value for money, taking into account whole-of-life costs, fit for purpose, quality, reliability, impact of market position (i.e. dominance), ethics, risk management, service levels, environmental impacts, technological change, contract and relationship management and transparency and accountability.

The consultation process

The Student Consultative Group (SCG) is the consultation for um for the levy. This group is made up of student and staff representatives and is chaired by the Vice-Chancellor. This group makes recommendations to the Finance Committee and Council in August. Council sets fees in October.

Students can talk directly with their representative on the SCG to make their views known on the levy. To find out who is on SCG, visit https://www.auckland.ac.nz/en/about/the-university/how-university-works/uoa-committees-vice-chancellor/student-consultative-group.html

Students can also make their voice heard by completing a short online survey at: www.auckland.ac.nz/levy.

 - Careers Development and Employment Services
 - Student Advocacy
 - Cultural and Sporting events

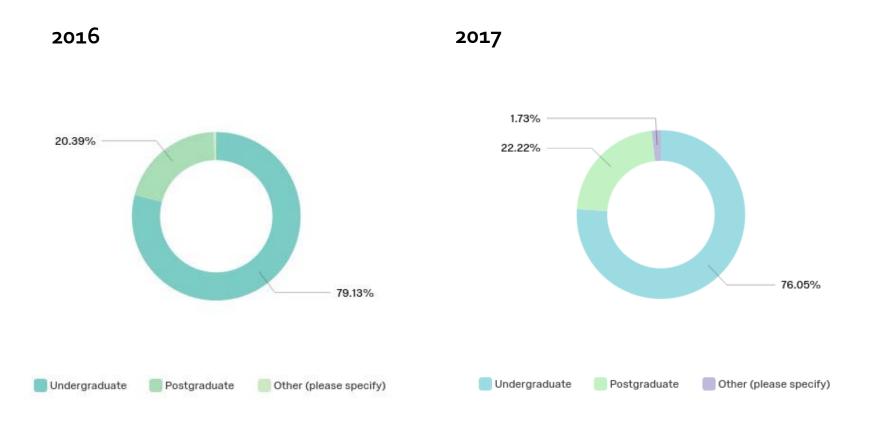

Methodology

- This year, the Student Levy Survey was a collaboration between AUSA and Campus Life
- The survey was available from the 6th of June until the 10th of July.
- During that time the survey was widely promoted by various stakeholders of the University to reach as many students as possible.
- Methods of distribution included:
 - AUSA Facebook post with a reach of 16,110
 - Promotion in other groups on Facebook, including What's On Facebook page, The official University of Auckland page and club Facebook groups
 - Facebook communication to all AUSA Executive members and volunteers to request they distribute it among the groups they represent
 - Inclusion in one AUSA email mail-out to approximately 15,000 students
 - A link available on the 'Compulsory Student Services Fee' webpage: www.auckland.ac.nz/levv
 - E-screens displayed on Quad, Club Central, iSPACE and Health & Counselling Centre
 - E-screens distributed to all e-screen owners across the University on 12 June

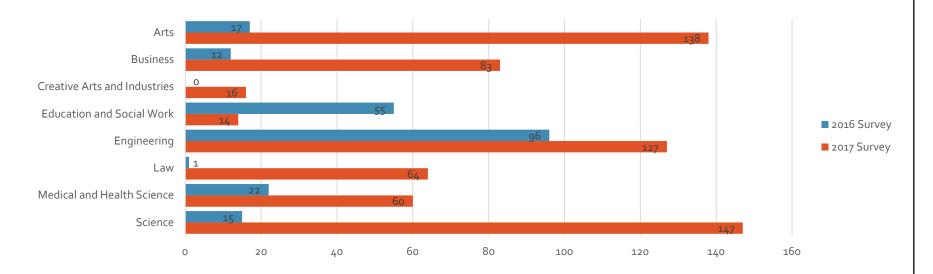

A total sample size of n = 772 responses was achieved.

This is an outstanding response - larger than both the 2016 Campus Life and AUSA surveys combined

1) Health and Counselling Services (e.g. doctors, nurses and counsellors on campus)

- Health Services were the most important to students surveyed
- 84.9% of students rated health services as important or very important to them personally
- Health Services were given the highest level of priority by students
- 66% of students agreed that health services should be given more priority
 - This number increased from 2016 (from 62%)

1) Health and Counselling Services (e.g. doctors, nurses and counsellors on campus)

Student comments often quoted waiting times and understaffing as major issues with the University Health and Counselling Service.

"I believe that the priority should be to decrease student wait times for counselling services. I have used the counselling service and found my condition really deteriorated in the time I had to wait for an initial appointment and waiting for follow up appointments to the point where I was needing compassionate consideration which could have been avoidable."

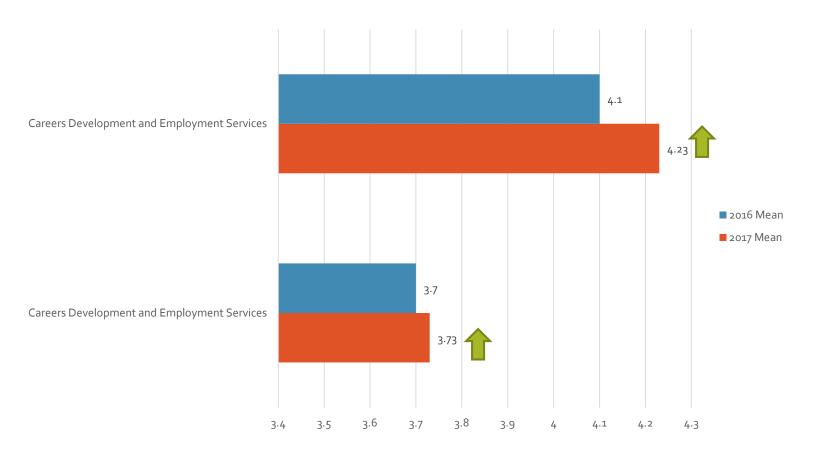

"For whatever reasons, students have negative experiences with Health and Counselling. My personal reflection is that this isn't due to the lack of expertise of the counsellors but rather the lack of time they have to dedicate to students. I think that going forward UOA needs to demonstrate a greater commitment to Health and Counselling."

2) Careers Development and Employment Services (e.g. career consultant staff, workshops, employer expos)

- Career and Employment services were the second most important to students surveyed
- 67.6% of students rated Careers and Employment services as important or very important to them personally
- Careers and Employment services were also given the second highest level of priority by students
- 33.5% of students agreed that Careers and Employment services should be given more priority

Careers Development and Employment Services (e.g. career consultant staff, workshops, employer expos)

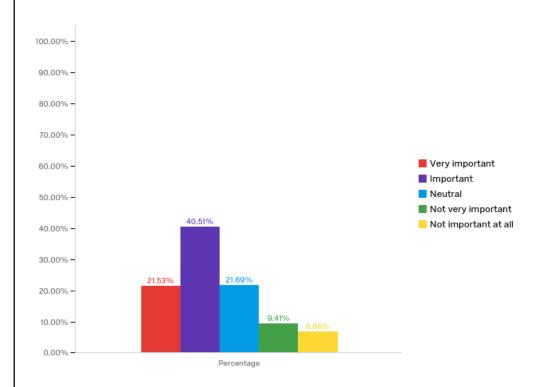

Several comments considered employment and careers services as an area that needs improvement, with many students seeking better quality careers events and employment resources available to students.

"Too much resources on career events, but students gain little from the events."

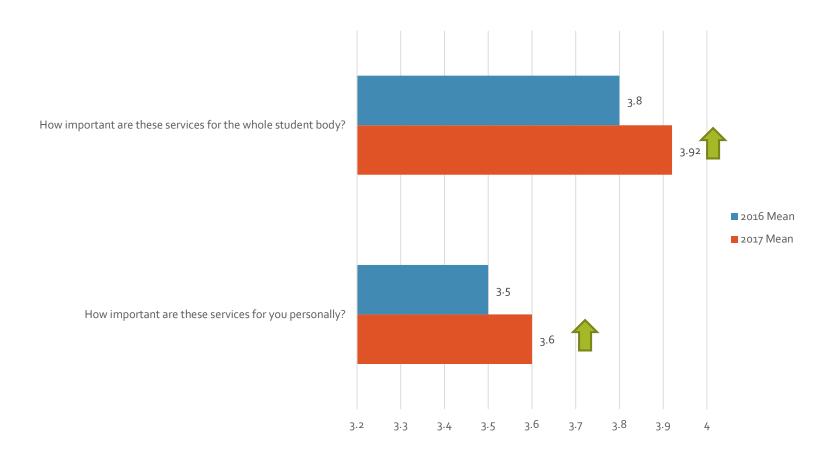

"Career counsellors are not able to give proper resume feedbacks, instead each TOP Auckland recruitment agency must be hired for a period of 1 or 2 months to provide direction and current sample resumes."

3) Student Advocacy (e.g. AUSA, PGSA and NTM student advocacy, class rep system)

- Student advocacy were ranked as the third most important levy funded category to students surveyed
- 62% of students rated student advocacy as important or very important to them personally
- Student advocacy was also given the third highest level of priority by students
- 31% of students agreed that student advocacy services should be given more priority

Student Advocacy (e.g. AUSA, PGSA and NTM student advocacy, class rep system)

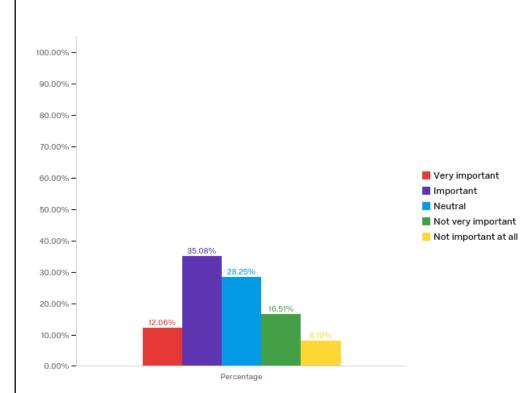

Comments were split regarding funding for student advocacy, specifically with regards to AUSA funding.

"I think the levy should prioritize student organisations over University services. From my experience student groups such as AUSA run better, more interesting and well attended events then what the University runs. Students know what students want"

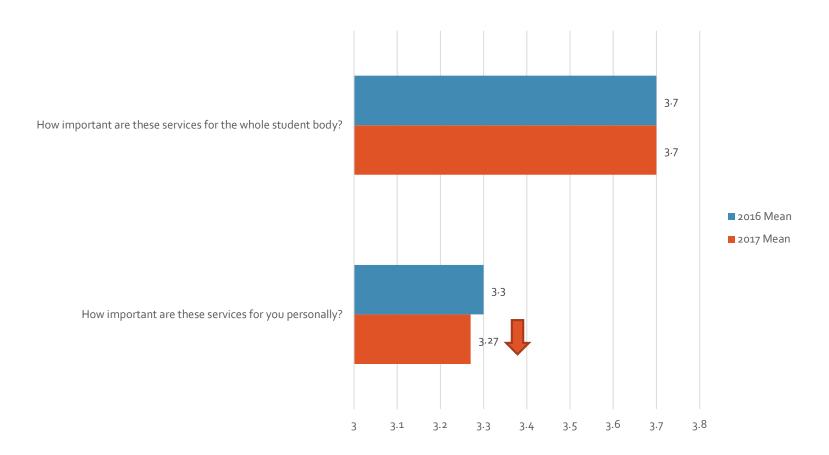

"Less should be given to AUSA. They don't do anything and the President gets paid too much!"

4) Cultural and sporting events (e.g. Student events on or off campus)

- Cultural and sporting events were ranked as the seventh most important levy funded category to students surveyed
- 47% of students rated cultural and sporting events as important or very important to them personally
- Majority of students thought the funding for cultural and sporting events should be kept the same.
- Only 15% of students agreed that cultural and sporting events should be given more priority

Cultural and sporting events (e.g. Student events on or off campus)

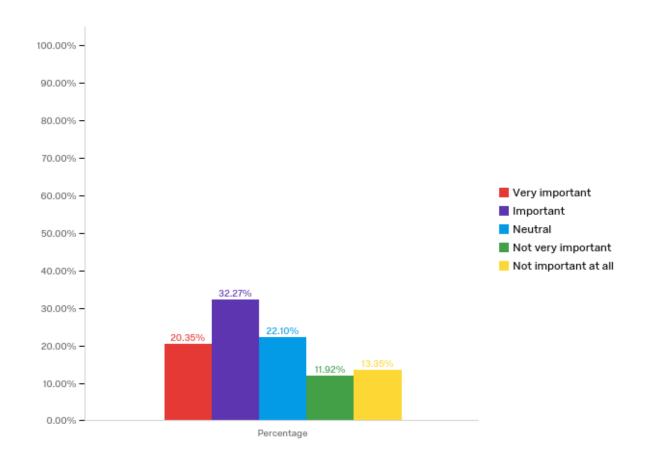

Comments around cultural and sporting events

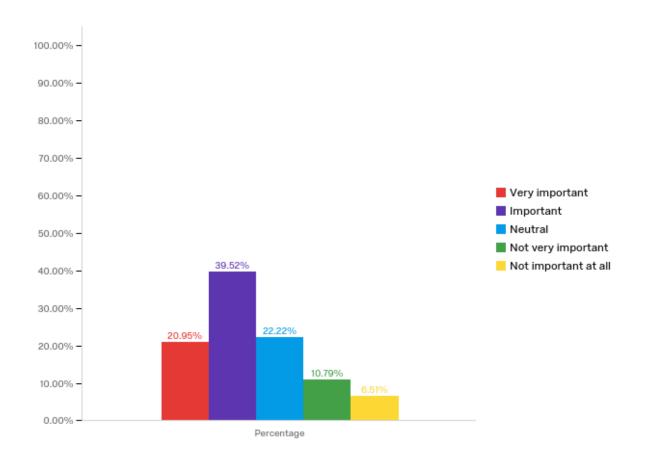

"More feedback should be obtained for each investment that is made, to really determine if students feel that the SPECIFIC event that they attend was worth it!"

"More events around exam time"

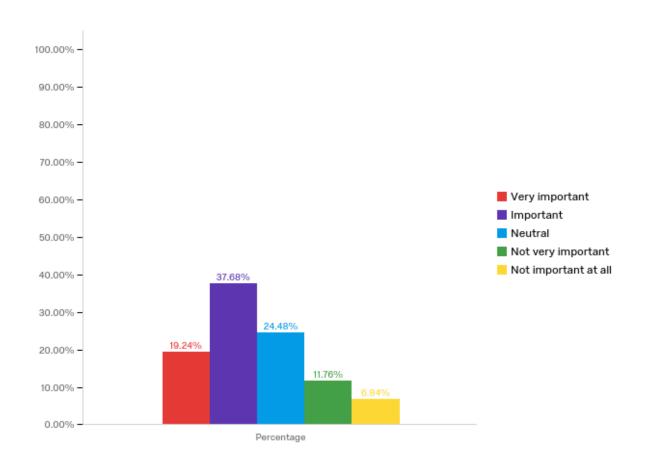

Sport and Recreation (e.g. subsidised gym membership for students, sports programmes, tournaments, facilities maintenance)

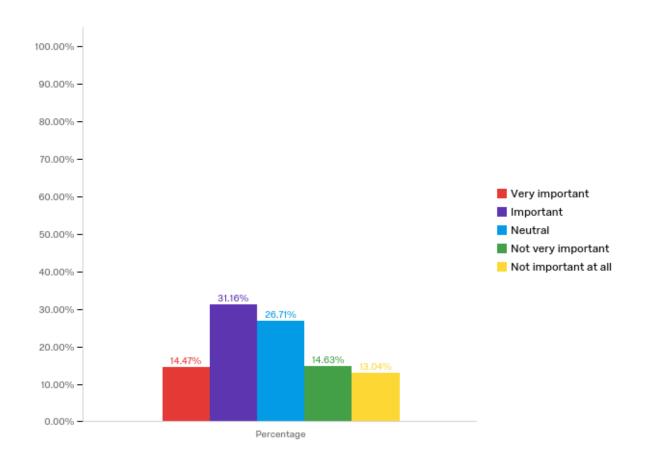

Clubs and societies (e.g. club grants, equipment, resources, expos and development workshops for club leaders)

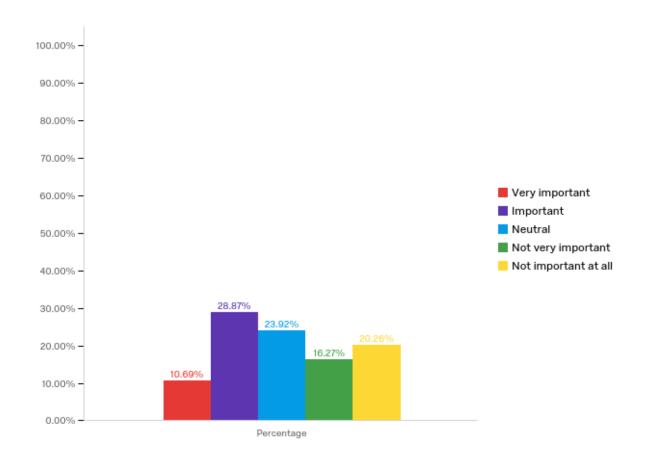

Pastoral care Pastoral care (e.g. student support staff to assist students with a range of non-academic issues)

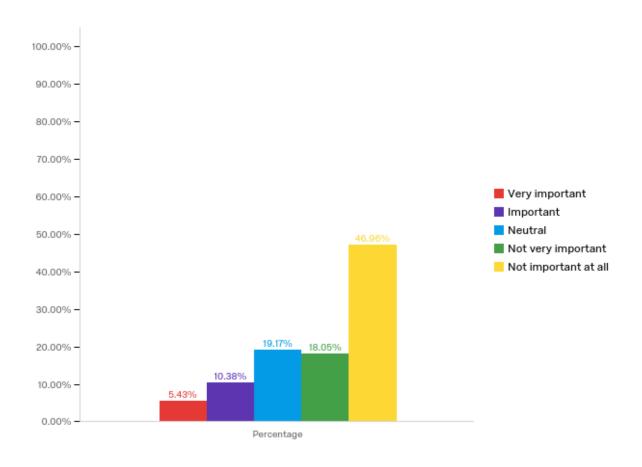

Transition programmes and support (e.g. UniGuide Programme, First Year Experience Mentors, Orientation)

Accommodation Advisors (e.g. student-staff employed in University accommodation to provide pastoral support)

Chapel and prayer services and spaces

Other interesting comments

- 1. "I would like to see a more detailed breakdown of where the Student Levy is going before I can provide proper feedback (such as how much money has currently been saved for a new recreation centre, how much longer the recreation centre levy needs to be collected before the target funcs have been collected, how the residential advisor funding is distributed, a detailed breakdown of clubs and society grants) and how much the funding benefits each campus individually"
- 1. "It was the first time I even had heard of this. Shouldn't it be at least mentioned on one of those online orientation activities?"
- 1. "I and most students are willing to accept lower standards of amenities (gym, halls food, etc.) in exchange for more funding for student welfare and low income students." does everyone agree?

Opportunities for Improvement

- Comparisons between the 2016 surveys and the current 2017 survey have been difficult due to inconsistencies in the questions. Moving forward, improvements would ensure better comparisons to the 2018 survey.
- The inclusion of demographic data in future surveys is important for understanding the needs of specific groups within the university student body, particularly the international student and postgraduate student populations.
 - AUSA will be running a separate survey for international students later this year

International Student Support

- Many international students suffer from a culture and language barrier in New Zealand, as well as the issues that come from being in a different city
- This means that all of the issues that affect students often are more severe for international students
 - As well as not being as engaged in University life, it means that vulnerable international students slip through the cracks

Target areas of improvement

- Engage international students in University life and culture, complementing existing initiatives such as UniGuides
- Establish networks of international students to ensure regular engagement and communication

AUSA Buddy System

- Peer support network for new international students. AUSA Buddies ease the transition of new international students to Auckland.
- AUSA Buddies are paired with an average of 3 new international students based on major, hobbies and if requested, ethnicity and languages spoken. AUSA Buddies are committed to meeting the new student faceto-face for at least once during Orientation Week. They are also committed to staying in contact with the new student through fortnightly texts.
- AUSA Buddies are well-adapted University of Auckland students who are volunteering their time. Both domestic and international, undergraduate and postgraduate students are welcome.

AUSA Buddy System
