Our response

Information regarding the estimate of the number of people who have overstayed their visa in New Zealand can be located at the following link on the Immigration New Zealand website:

<https://www.immigration.govt.nz/about-us/news-centre/immigration-new-zealand-releases-2025-estimate-of-number-of-people-who-have-overstayed-their-visa/>

The information in the link above answers the first five questions in your request. If the information you have requested is not found within the above link, then it does not exist and is refused in reliance on section 18(e) of the Official Information Act 1982.

Information about the methods and processes INZ uses is withheld in reliance on section 6(c) of the OIA as the making available of the information would be likely to prejudice the maintenance of the law, including the prevention, investigation, and detection of offences, and the right to a fair trial. MBIE can advise that information received via Crimestoppers or any other allegations received are followed up and acted on accordingly where resource and priority needs are met.

MBIE does have a data match with the Department of Corrections. More information can be found here:

<https://www.immigration.govt.nz/about-us/about-this-site/how-we-use-and-collect-information/information-matching-with-other-government-departments/>

Further information about the deportation process can be found on the Immigration New Zealand website here: <https://www.immigration.govt.nz/about-us/news-centre/deportation/>

The number of deportations of individuals who were unlawfully in New Zealand is in Table 1 below. The data covers the period 1 May 2021 to 30 May 2026.

Table 1 – deportations of individuals unlawfully in New Zealand 1 May 2021 to 30 May 2026

Deportation type	Number of individuals
Client Deported	1,062
Client Self-deported	1,148
Voluntary departure	482
Total	2,692

The following terms apply to the above table (and table 2 below):

Deportation — A person who is unlawfully in New Zealand who has been served a deportation order and departs New Zealand, or a temporary visa holder who was made liable for deportation and departs New Zealand after the date when they may be served with a deportation order.

Self-deportation — A person who is unlawfully in New Zealand who departs New Zealand of their own volition and at no cost to the Ministry after the date when the person may be served with a deportation order, but they have not been served with such an order.

Voluntary departure — A person who is unlawfully in New Zealand or is a temporary visa holder who was made liable for deportation and departs of their own volition and at no cost to the Ministry prior to the date when the person may be served with a deportation order.

The annual budget for deportations completed by Immigration Compliance and Investigations is $1.917 million for the 2025-2026 financial year (up to April 2026). This budget includes costs associated with deportations (including field work) of those unlawfully in New Zealand or who were in breach of the Immigration Act 2009 (liable for deportation).

There are currently 151 FTE or equivalent staff within the Immigration Compliance and Investigations branch. This total includes all Compliance Officers and Investigators (as of 12 June 2026).

The total number of active student visa holders in New Zealand as of 11 June 2026 is 87,581 individuals. A further breakdown by nationality, age and institution name can be found in the three tables contained in Appendix 1.

Information relating to verification of work rights for individuals on student visas is withheld in reliance on section 6(c) of the OIA as the making available of the information would be likely to prejudice the maintenance of the law, including the prevention, investigation, and detection of offences, and the right to a fair trial.

There have been 1,301 investigations into breaches of the Immigration Act 2009 in the last five years. Note that Immigration's systems do not explicitly record 'student visa work breaches' so the total provided is cases recorded where a breach of section 157(5)(a) of the Immigration Act 2009 has been entered.

Table 2 shows the number of enforcement actions taken where a breach of section 157(5)(a) of the Immigration Act 2009 has been recorded over the last five years.

Table 2 – enforcement actions following a breach of section 157 of the Immigration Act 2009 between 1 May 2021 and 30 May 2026

Enforcement outcome	Number of cases
Voluntary departure	194
Client deported	55
Client self-deported	50
Visa cancelled	44
Referred to Investigations / Prosecution	6
Employer – Education pack provided	6
Employer – Accreditation revoked	3
Employer – Infringement issued	1
Employer – Accreditation suspended	1
Total	360

Information relating to the industries most commonly involved is not captured by immigration's systems therefore this part of your request is refused in reliance on section 18(e) of the Official Information Act 1982 as it does not exist.

The part of your request asking for information about overstayers involved in criminal offending is refused in reliance on section 18(f) of the OIA as the information would require substantial collation to enable an answer to be provided. This is because MBIE does not always record criminality (or are necessarily informed of criminal offending) if it is not the reason for deportation liability. As overstayers are liable for deportation on the grounds of being unlawfully in New Zealand this would most likely be the reason for their deportation.

Information regarding visa overstayer enforcement, student visa compliance monitoring and risk assessment procedures for unlawful migrants is withheld in reliance on section 6(c) of the OIA as the making available of the information would be likely to prejudice the maintenance of the law, including the prevention, investigation, and detection of offences, and the right to a fair trial.

For the parts of your request which are being refused in reliance on section 18(e) and 18(f) of the OIA, in accordance with sections 18A and 18B of the OIA we have considered whether consulting with you or charging would allow us to respond in full however it is our opinion that it would not.

If you wish to discuss any aspect of your request or this response, or if you require any further assistance, please contact OIA@mbie.govt.nz.

You have the right to seek an investigation and review by the Ombudsman of this decision. Information about how to make a complaint is available at www.ombudsman.parliament.nz or freephone 0800 802 602.
